Police Seek Male Student For Exposing Himself To Faculty Member

On May 17, 2007, a Graduate Advisor met with a student at the UCSB Student Resource Building to assist him in the application process for Graduate School. During this meeting, the student intentionally exposed his genitals to the female advisor. The student left after being ordered out by the staff member.

The student was identified as Carlyn Lovell McDonald, Jr. In the course of our investigation, UCSB Police obtained an arrest warrant for McDonald. He was arrested and booked in the Santa Barbara County Jail on May 19, 2007 at noon.

If you have information regarding similar behavior by McDonald, you are encouraged to contact the UCSB Police Department.
